

“I would like the problems in the world to be distant enough from me that I am able to see them in an objective sort of sense.

I don't want to be swallowed up in the problems.

I want to be out there on the edge of the problems. Close enough that I can help to find the solutions but not so wrapped up in problems that I am lost in the problem.”

~Abraham-Hicks

---

“Do not go where the path may lead, go instead where there is no path and leave a trail.”

~ Ralph Waldo Emerson